

DISCLOSURE OF POTENTIAL BIAS

A potential bias does not mean that the work presented has been compromised, nor does it disqualify authors from publication. However, in an effort to provide readers with information relevant to factors* that might be viewed as biasing this review, Annual Reviews asks all authors to complete the disclosure statement below. This statement may be published in the final section (“Disclosure Statement”) of your chapter.

-----
Author Name:

Chapter Title:

Annual Review Series:

Below is a list of factors that might be viewed as biasing this review:

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

I am not aware of any biases that might be viewed as affecting the objectivity of this review.

_____
Signature

_____
Date

_____
* Potential bias arises from any affiliations, funding, or financial holdings that may be viewed as affecting the objectivity of your review. Such factors may include, although they are not limited to, the following:

- Employment, professional affiliations, paid consultancies, membership in related advocacy organizations
- Funding, support, and/or grants received within the past three years
- Significant financial holdings or patents